NAYS—1

Hermansen,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1316 (Senate Bill No. 246), as follows:

An Act defining the powers of the courts of quarter sessions the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and the County Court of Allegheny County with respect to the care guidance control trial placement and commitment of deliquent dependent and neglected children under sixteen years of age and of persons over sixteen years of age contributing to or encouraging the deliquency neglect and dependency of children and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto

Whereas The welfare of the Commonwealth demands that children should be guarded from association and contact with crime and criminals and the ordinary process of the criminal law does not provide for such care guidance and control as are essential to children in the formative period of life and

Whereas Experience has shown that children lacking proper parental care or guardianship are led into courses of life which may render them liable to the penalties of the criminal law and that the real interests of such children require that they be not incarcerated in jails and penitentiaries as members of the criminal class but be subjected to wise care guidance and control so that evil tendencies may be checked and better instincts be strengthened and

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2011, as follows:

An Act for the protection of the public health by regulating the outer wearing apparel and towels of employes in certain stores shops plants or restaurants where food and drink for human consumption are handled providing penalties and providing for the enforcement of the act by State departments

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the word "proprietor" shall mean any person association copartnership or corporation conducting or operating within this Commonwealth any store shop plant or restaurant in which are manufactured treated or sold bakery products dressed meats milk or milk products or other food and drink for human consumption which while handled in such store shop plant or restaurant are or may be exposed to and unprotected from human touch

The word "employe" shall include any cook baker butcher milk plant employe clerk waiter or other employe of any kind who in any manner whatever handles or comes in contact with unprotected food or drink for human consumption

The masculine pronoun shall be interpreted to include the feminine and neuter pronouns

Section 2 No proprietor shall permit an employe to work in a store shop plant or restaurant conducted or operated by him unless the outer garments of such employe are in a clean and sanitary condition and are washed and sterilized after each daily use in a steam or power laundry

Section 3 Each such proprietor shall furnish at all times for the use of such employes an adequate number of towels which shall not again be used after each individual use thereof until they have been washed and sterilized in a steam or power laundry

Section 4 Any person association partnership or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding before any justice of the peace alderman or magistrate in the county in which the offense was committed be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than fifty ($50.00) to be paid to said county and the costs of prosecution

Section 5 This act shall be enforced by the agents of any and every department who under the provisions of this act are required to inspect or visit such stores shops and plants

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I regret that I must rise to oppose this bill sponsored by my friend from Allegheny, but I think it is not fair to allow this bill to come before the House for a vote without calling attention to what I consider its main features.

I think that the title of this bill should really read "An Act for the Relief of Distressed Laundries." This bill provides that the outer garments of all people who work in any kind of a restaurant or any kind of a shop which handle meats or food shall be laundered in a power or steam laundry and that the towels which they use shall also be laundered in a power or steam laundry.

I come from up in the country where people do their own washing and where we do not have power and steam laundries handy, and there are many people in the rural sections who would be put to a great handicap if this bill were enacted into law.

I do not think that this is a fair measure and I think it should be defeated.

Mr. DeFREHN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Spann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SPANN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DeFREHN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand by Section 3 that an employe would be allowed to wipe his hands but once on a towel and not again until it has been laundered?

Mr. SPANN. Mr. Speaker, the bill provides for each daily use.

Mr. DeFREHN. Not according to Section 3 as I read it, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPANN. Mr. Speaker, the bill provides for an adequate number of towels which shall not again be used after each individual use thereof.

Mr. DeFREHN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that the purpose of this bill is right and proper. We should have more sanitary conditions in many of our stores and restaurants. However, if a clean towel is required every time an employe has occasion to wipe his hands, I think the purpose of the bill will be defeated, for many times it may be necessary to wash the hands, but if a clean towel is required every time the hands will go unwashed.

It is suggested that a paper towel might be used and that might be well, but I think there should be some change in this bill before it passes.

On the question recurring,

Section 1303 General Repeal of Acts All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if there is any member of the House who can explain the purpose of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Is there any member of the House who will volunteer the information for the benefit of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Gallagher?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman has any specific questions that he wants to ask concerning the bill, I shall be glad to answer his questions or try to answer them.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Allegheny desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, I have one question to ask. It seems to me that this bill is detrimental to the building and loan associations. It is putting the power in the banks. I would like to know if there is any member of the House who can explain the purpose of the bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia answer the question?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill that is now before you is known as the Building and Loan Association Code. It provides for the formation and operation of building and loan associations and also for the treatment of building and loan associations that may in the course of events find themselves in difficulty.

The bill, you will notice from your file, was introduced on March 13th in the Senate, was considered at great length by the Senate committee and by a sub-committee of the Senate, together with a sub-committee of the House. These committees conferred at many meetings with representatives officially sent before them by every building and loan association interest in the Commonwealth, representing every section of the Commonwealth.

The bill had its beginning in a printed pamphlet that was prepared and issued by the Department of Justice. These pamphlets were widely circulated among every building and loan association in the Commonwealth, as a result of which suggestions for changes were made by the many building and loan association interests in the Commonwealth from every section of the Commonwealth.

Since 1874 the building and loan associations of this State have been governed and managed under the General Corporation act having to do with corporations for profit and that act by the experience of time that has intervened, and more especially in the last three years, has proved itself ineffectual in giving to the shareholders of building and loan associations the protection to which they are justly entitled.

This bill does not do what my friend has suggested it might do: put the power or control of building and loan associations in banks. On the contrary it gives to the directors of the building and loan associations their proper authority and proper responsibility and it places in the Banking Department that careful supervision that is required for the protection of all stockholders in building and loan associations.

Investors in building and loan associtaions, as you may all know, have always believed themselves to be in substantially the same status as depositors in savings accounts in banks or in savings funds, but that has not been the case. Under the existing law the shareholder in a building and loan association has substantially the same status as the shareholder in any business corporation. This bill changes that status very materially. The bill tightens up many of the points in the management and control of building and loan associations all for one purpose and only one purpose, and that is to give to the millions of investors, as well as the billions of dollars invested, the protection to which they are justly entitled.

There is probably no piece of legislation that has come before this House in this session that goes more directly into every household and to every purse of the various citizens of the Commonwealth than does this measure. Not only in Philadelphia, known all over the world as "The City of Homes," but in every village and borough, town and city of this Commonwealth the building and loan association has become known as an institution wherein people might safely invest the moneys that they have accumulated through their effort. These people, above all others, are entitled to the maximum of protection so far as the laws of the Commonwealth are concerned and through this measure you give these worthy people the protection that they should have.

In the course of the conferences that took place, as I have described, the Banking Department was able to bring into play the experience that itself had in the building and loan association field during these past two years. Through the advice and counsel of the Banking Department, the Department of Justice and the committees that have handled this measure they have been able to write into it certain provisions that will make as nearly impossible as any law can make any of the malpractices and bad conduct, if you please, that have heretofore characterized building and loan associations all over this Commonwealth but particularly in Philadelphia.

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, as there seems to be a question in the minds of some of the members of the House regarding this bill, I would move that it be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the privilege of reading a telegram that I have received from the Allegheny County League of Building and Loan Associations. The telegram reads as follows:

STATEMENT BY MR. SOWERS

Mr. SOWERS asked and obtained permission to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I asked Mr. Fertig of the Legislative Reference Bureau for an opinion on the constitutionality of House Bill No. 1681. I will not read the opinion in full. He says "In my opinion, the courts would sustain the bill on the theory that every provision therein related to 3.2 alcoholic beverages, and that the purpose or all of the provisions was to regulate and restrain traffic in these beverages."

I ask permission, Mr. Speaker, to have inserted in the Journal at this point the full and complete opinion of the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia will be spread upon the Journal and if there are no objections the communication will be printed in full in the Legislative Journal. The Chair hears none.

April 23, 1933.

Hon. Clinton A. Sowers, House of Representatives Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Mr. Sowers:

The constitutionality of House Bill No. 1681 turns entirely on the subject which may be selected for the bill. If one speaks of the regulation and taxation of beverages, then there are two subjects; but if one selects 3.2 alcoholic beverages as the subject, then the licensing, taxation and other features may readily be held to be collateral to the main subject. One method of regulating the subject is by licensing and taxing which increase the price and cuts down the consumption. The cheaper a product is, the greater the consumption necessarily reduced. The tax is consequently an inherent element in the regulation.

There are two kinds of licenses which the courts recognize—one which is merely a police regulation where the license fee may not exceed the cost of inspection; the other is one which is imposed as a burden to lessen the evils which are inherent in the business licensed. Two outstanding examples of licenses which are burdens, are the motor vehicle and liquor licenses. These have always been imposed at a greater rate than necessary to pay the cost of inspection. Consequently, they cannot be distinquished from taxes since they are assessed for general revenue purposes just the same as all taxes.

I have never heard anyone contend that the licensing features in H. 1681 were unconstitutional. If they are good, then by merely changing the tax features in H. 1681 to a license of the brewer, the license fee to be measured by output, the objections will be overcome by the mere magic of changing tax to license. It is just as reasonable to impose a license fee measured by output as it is to license a motor bus by seating capacity. In fact, the brewers' licenses under the Act of 1897 were measured by production.

It seems to me that municipal codes are exactly in point. These regulate or provide for the regulation of every muncipal affair, provide for license taxes and confer complete taxing powers. No one has ever questioned these as being unconstitutional on this point.

It matters not how many collateral matters are dealt with. The question is whether all the details and collateral matters merge into a unified whole which may be expressed by one subject, which I have always contended should be a subject descriptive of the substance of the law. The evil which the Constitution attempted to remedy was to prevent the combining of two distinct and separate subjects of legislation in one bill: Clearfield v. Cameron, 135 Pa. 86, 89; to prevent a number of different and unconnected subjects from being gathered together in one act: Ruth's Appeal, 10 W. N. C. 498, 500; Dorsey's Appeal, 72 Pa. 192, 195; to prevent the practice of bringing together into one bill subjects diverse in their nature and having no necessary connection: Cooley's Constitutional Limitations, 7th Ed., page 203.

On the other hand, it has been said that:

> "No two subjects are so wide apart that they may not be brought together into a common focus if the point of view be carried back far enough."

This, however, would be going too far, and must be limited to

> "* * * those things which have a proper relation to each other; which fairly constitute parts of a scheme to accomplish a single purpose; relate to the same subject or object; and provisions which have no proper legislation relation to each other and are not part of the same legislative scheme, may not be joined in the same act:" Payne v. School District, 168 Pa. 386, 389.

"The unity of the subject of a statute is to be determined by its paramount purpose, rather than by the details through which that purpose is to be accomplished. The subject may have but one object, while the measures necessary for the attainment of that object may necessarily embody many subordinate subjects, differing in their nature, and particular effect, yet all contributing to it and comprised within the principal subject. Everything which the nature of the subject of a title reasonably suggests, as necessary or appropriate for the accomplishment of its express purpose, is sufficiently indicated by such title:" Comm. v. Jones, 4 Super. Ct. 362, 386.

The cases which I have cited are the leading ones under which this title, if it came before the courts, would be measured. It thus appears to me that H. 1681 can readily be construed to come within these general rules. In my opinion, the courts would sustain the bill on the theory that every provision therein related to 3.2 alcoholic beverages, and that the purpose of all of the provisions was to regulate and restrain traffic in these beverages.

Sincerely yours,
J. H. FERTIG,
Director.

Vol. 15 — HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 25, 1933 — No. 55

SENATE

TUESDAY, April 25, 1933.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George P. Donehoo, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we ask Thee that as we commence another day's work we may do so with a realization of placing first things first, and that we may know that a man's life consists not in the abundance of his possessions, that the man behind the gun is always of more value than the gun, and that in this nation of ours today, which was noted for making men, we are thinking more of money. Keep us always with a balanced budget in our own lives. We ask in Thy name. Amen.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1329 (House Bill No. 1803), entitled:

An Act relating to Sunday music permitting musicians to receive compensation for services rendered on Sunday authorizing pay concerts to be given and broadcast on Sunday under certain circumstances and allowing school and certain public buildings and parks to be used therefor conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Public Instruction and imposing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I would like to draw the attention of the Senate to this bill. This is the Sunday music bill. The sponsor of this bill is Mr. Long, the same gentleman who had the instalment house bill here last night, the same man whom I opposed so strongly last night—and I am more convinced than ever that I was right. But I am on the floor today to back him up; I am here this morning to back up some legislation that Mr. Long is responsible for; and, remarkable as this legislation may seem, it is advocated by the Sunday Conference of Philadelphia Club Women and Clergymen. It is an option bill, wherein the Department of Public Instruction authorizes these concerts, if you think they should be had; and the purpose of the bill is to give some employment to unemployed musicians. There is no profit to be obtained by any one; and if, perchance, there should be a profit, it goes to the Department of Public Instruction. It is purely a charitable proposition, in order to take care of many of the musicians who are now unemployed and who will give concerts on Sunday under authorization of the Department of Public Instruction. No one is to receive any profit.

To my mind this is a bill that even those who are opposed to Sunday legislation can conscientiously vote for. The three cardinal virtues taught to the Christian people,—and I use the word "Christian" in its broadest sense, including every religious faith; of course, that takes mine in too,—are faith, hope and charity. We have had wonderful examples in the Legislature, and in this Senate especially, of those three cardinal principles, in our everyday work around in the Senate during this session; and the outstanding one of all, to my mind, is hope. Everybody, every Senator and every citizen of the State of Pennsylvana, is now looking forward with hope; and it is my earnest wish that hope may achieve something.

Up to the present date I see hope only away back in the dismal background. Hope, it seems to me, has had very few champions in the session of 1933. But that has nothing to do with this bill; that is just my opinion, and, like in many things, I may be all wrong again. I have been sitting here trying to compare these three cardinal virtues with the great activity of the great Senate of Pennsylvania in the session of 1933, and in my few notes here I finally come to the conclusion that maybe we have covered up by the passage of the beer bill, because in the passage of that bill we are going to get for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a large sum of money, and that money is to be used for the benefit of the unemployed. If we get that money, and it is used along those lines, everybody is going to be happy.

And then we have the next bill, the Sunday baseball bill, somewhat akin to this bill; and there was a thought in the minds of some people,—I hope they were wrong,—that if the Senate passed the Sunday baseball bill and the Governor signed the bill, faith would be ancient history. I do not believe that is what is going to happen; I believe if the Governor signs the baseball bill the question of faith and its benefit to the citizens of Pennsylvania is going to be much stronger than ever before, and that the people are going to be even more a God-fearing people than they ever were before.

And then the last of these three, and some ministers have said it is the greatest of them, is charity; and there has been a wonderful exhibition of charity in Pennsylvania, a wonderful exhibition, and I want to show you how chairtable the people of Pennsylvania are, particularly toward the unemployed, when the ghouls of the world, the instalment people, have become charitable. It is a wonderful day in the history of Pennsylvania when the lowliest class of merchants in the entire universe are becoming charitable to the unemployed by trying to cut their throats.

That however, has nothing to do with this bill. This bill is really a charitable bill. This is a bill that any man might be proud to support, because there is no profit in it. It is educational. It is backed by the Department of Public Instruction. It is a local option bill; and every God-fearing man in this Senate can well afford to vote for this bill, particularly can those well afford to vote for it who with the charity of their hearts second to no other charity I have ever seen before, have stood up and supported the Dr. Jekyls and Mr. Hydes in the instalment bill.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I voted with my friend, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, last evening, on the Long Bill; but I cannot agree with him with respect to the Long Bill which is now before the Senate. This bill, to my mind, is the opening wedge for a commercialized Sunday. I do not propose discussing Sunday baseball, because I believe that issue has been settled, as far as the Senate of Pennsylvania is concerned, for this session; but this bill, apparently innocent in its provisions, providing simply for Sunday concerts regulated and licensed by the Department of Public Instruction, opens wide a different field; and to my mind it brings the Senate of Pennsylvania just squarely to the question: Are we not trying to whittle away the Blue Laws of Pennsylvania?

A good deal has been said with respect to Sunday laws and religion. I do not approach this bill from that viewpoint It has ever been the policy of the Republican Party in Dauphin County to support the Blue Laws. In my opinion the major, dominant sentiment of my county today is in favor of the maintenance of the Blue Laws.

I am reminded of a rather interesting incident in the history of railroad development,—of the time when the Northern Central Railroad was attempting to get its line into Washington. Finally they did secure the right to go through Bowie Junction to some point out in the sticks, but with the right to establish branch lines; and, as we all know, it was a very short time thereafter that one small train was running into the sticks, but the de luxe trains were running from Baltimore to Washington. And to my mind, in this bill the Senate of Pennsylvania today is standing at "Folly Junction." This bill is innocent enough in itself, but it is an opening wedge to a commercialized Sunday; and on behalf of the people of my county who believe in the maintenance of the Blue Laws of Pennsylvania, I shall vote "no" on this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

An Act reducing the salaries and compensation of certain county city borough town township and poor district officers and employes and requesting and urging public officers of counties cities boroughs towns townships and poor districts now in office to agree to voluntary reductions of salaries.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President and members of the Senate: Of the ten million people of Pennsylvania one stands out preeminently as a showman of the first dimension. All of us are familiar with his work and not one of us will deny him credit. All mediums are great in his mill. Familiar with every method, he is a master of personal publicity.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has urgent need for that man's services. This State is the brightest star in the American galaxy. But its story is not well told and its glory is partly a closed book.

For that reason I suggest that the Senate of Pennsylvania call upon Governor Gifford Pinchot to abandon his successful attempts at personal exaltation, and devote his time and efforts solely to the well-being of the State which twice has elected him its chief executive.

Mr. President, and Members of the Senate, I have no doubt that with a little practice Governor Pinchot might advance this State's interests with the facility he now employs in his detractions.

I have no doubt that if he so desires he can point with pride to the greatness of Pennsylvania, rather than to what he calls its rottenness and corruption. As general manager of a ten-billion dollar business it is his duty to further its interests and promote its good reputation.

In my opinion his mistaken attitude toward the State, which has twice honored him, toward the party which has twice elected him, and toward a Senate and Assembly, which over a period of more than six years has tried to work with him for Pennsylvania's best interests, comes from a combination of ego-saturated cosmos and chronic sour stomach. Neither is incurable.

The Governor is not willing to admit that we members of the Legislature owe a single duty to the folks back home. It is his idea that his simple O. K. will square us with our constituents. He claims to voice the unanimous sentiment and opinion of Pennsyvania's ten million people. But the truth is that in the general election of 1930 the narrow margin of approximately 58,000 votes separteed him from defeat. So close was he to a life of ease among the trout streams and bass pools of Pike County.

For more than a century the Pinchot family has been identified with Pennsylvania affairs. It seems to me that loyalty alone should dictate a different course than that pursued by the Governor. It seems to me that he should be glad to confer with Senators and Assemblymen, with party leaders, and with citizens generally, in an effort to determine what must be done to make Pennsylvania even a greater State, and life in Pennsylvania even more worth living.

As members of the Legislature we are bound to do the right thing. But by written and spoken word the Governor charges that the majority of the members of the Senate and House are bondservants of special interests.

Is it reasonable to believe that if the accusation were true we would dare face the men and women who sent us to Harrisburg?

If it were true even the children in the street would be justified in reviling us. But it is not true. None knows it more than the Governor of Pennsylvania.

Unfortunately the mind of the average citizen is not an indexed filing cabinet. If it were the Governor would be more careful of what he says. During his speech Monday night of last week he showered praise upon four of his appointees to the Public Service Commission, and heaped abuse upon the fifth. But as the Philadelphia Ledger put it so truthfully.

> "There was an element of inconsistency in Governor Pinchot's discrimination against the Chairman of the commission with whom he has a personal quarrel, in the hearty encomiums he bestowed on the commission as a whole, for undoubtedly Dr. King must be entitled to a share of the credit given to his associates."

The truth is, Mr. President, and Members of the Senate, that in all decisions of the Public Service Commission since the Governor gained control not a dissenting vote has been cast. So Dr. King, and Commissioners Shelby and Walker, deserve as much credit for meritorious deeds as the quartet of commissioners eulogized by the Governor.

Or take the subject of unemployment relief. For weeks the Governor has ding-donged on the subject of huge state advances. On every first page in the state he has advertised his tears and lamentations, while he demanded that the legislature appropriate great sums to be matched by the Federal Government.

But in all that he has said he has made no mention of the fact that some day Pennsyuvania must return to the treasury at Washington the millions in gold that jingle so musically in the cup.

The return, of course, is for our sons and daughters to worry about. It is nothing in the lives of those who borrow it so cheerfully.

But the Governor has not always pleaded for state appropriations. Not long ago his idea was vastly different. On Sunday afternoon, October 25, 1931, he delivered an address at the men's club of the First Congregational Church in Flushing, New York City. And in that speech he said:

> "If the burden of unemployment relief is to fall where it rightly and justly should, then there is no way to escape and increase in the higher brackets of the Federal income tax, or an excess profits tax, or similar enactments."
> But he went farther than that. He said:
> "The present effort to take every possible cent of the cost of unemployment relief from the less well-to-do is not only unsound morally and economically, but it is utterly foolish from the point of view of those who are guilty of it, and it is dangerous as well."

Apparently the Governor has found it politically advisable to abandon that viewpoint, for he complacently directs the legislature to use vast totals of tax money for relief purposes. Where does tax money come from, if not directly and indirectly from the less well-to-do? It is all very well to say that corporations pay the bulk of our revenues, but what they pay is added to the cost of what they produce, or sell, and comes eventually from the pockets of the little fellow—the less well-to-do. All taxes come eventually from the little fellow.

But it is not my intention to go deeply into that subject. I merely remind you that we do not owe sole allegiance to the Governor of Pennsylvania. Our duty is to the people of Pennsylvania. We must enact legislation demanded by our constituents.

We know what they want.

We mingle among them continually. We are not political deities, surrounded by lesser Rasputins and denied human contacts that bring enlightenment. Let us continue to see our duty and do it.

And let the Governor of Pennsylvania join us in doing it.

BILL ON THIRD READING POSTPONED FOR THE PRESENT

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume the consideration of Senate Bill No. 989, on third reading postponed for the present, entitled:

A Joint Resolution continuing the joint legislative committee created to study the production and marketing of milk

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Br. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, if I am in order to discuss this bill, permit me to say this is the bill to continue the joint legislative committee which has been holding hearings during the present session on the question of the production and marketing of milk. The committee has had hearings each week, which have been very largely attended. We have a volume of data which has been produced, and testimony which has been taken before the committee, and it is the feeling of the committee, which had a meeting today, that this work should be continued during the recess, in order that we may at the next session of the Legislature recommend appropriate legislation on the subject.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—48

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING POSTPONED FOR THE PRESENT

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1203, on third reading postponed for the present, entitled:

An Act requiring certain persons, associations, copartnerships and corporations to keep full accounts and records with respect to the sales and transactions relating to dairy products and to submit the same to inspection by the Secretary of Agriculture, and prescribing the effect of failure to comply with the orders of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1203 be recommitted to the Committee on Agriculture.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, I want to say to you that the farmer and the dairyman have troubles of their own just now, and this bill, when it goes into effect, is going to ask them to bring in expert accountants and do everything that will add to their troubles and worries, and it is just adding another thing to the farmer's expense; and I do not think it should be done at this time.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I hope this motion will not prevail. This bill has been considered by the Committee on Agriculture and fully considered by a sub-committee thereof. I realize that my friend from Philadelphia, Senator Trainer, is by profession a farmer, but I did not know he was fighting the farmer's battle in this Senate. I understand he is in the wholesale milk business as well. But I want to say to this Senate that this bill is in the interest of the farmer and not in the interest of the milk dealer. We feel it is a proper bill and should be passed by the Senate and become a law. The farmers of the State are in back of it. If you are voting to recommit this bill you are voting against the farmers of this State; and I hope that the motion will not prevail.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, I might remark, to the distinguished Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, that there was a mistake made in the bill when it was introduced. Last week we had the hair dressers and everybody else up here; and they should have had a manicurists' organization to go out on the farms and see that the cows were properly manicured, and everything else, before we could milk them.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1203, entitled:

An Act requiring certain persons associations copartnerships and corporations to keep full accounts and records with respect to the sales and transactions relating to dairy products and to submit the same to inspection by the Secretary of Agriculture and prescribing the effect of failure to comply with the orders of the Secretary of Agriculture.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George F. Conner, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and all-wise Father, we have beheld Thy hand in all the wondrous domain of creation, as we wended our various ways to these Legislative Halls. In our cities, where cross the crowded ways of life, over templed hills and flower bedecked valleys, along beautiful streams, through fertile farm lands, rugged mining country and majestic forests; in all of Thy wondrous domain of creation we have beheld Thy handiwork, and felt the pulsations of new life.

But everywhere amidst the beauty and mystery of life, we are aware of bristling problems to be solved, and these ladies and gentlemen have been commissioned for that task.

Now Lord, in behalf of Thy chief creation, humanity, we pray that divine guidance may be given to these Thy servants, that they may bring peace and order out of confusion and chaos. Amen.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from is Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 720

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 24, 1933.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith without my approval, House Bill No. 720, Printer's No. 196, entitled "An Act to amend section one thousand seven hundred and sixteen of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled 'An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith' as added by further defining the term 'cost of tuition' or 'cost of tuition text book and school supplies' ".

This bill would change the basis for determining the tuition which school districts may charge for pupils who come to their high schools from other districts. At present the rate of tuition is based on the cost of instruction, books, supplies, fuel, light, water and janitor service, plus an additional ten per centum for overhead. This bill would add to this the cost of "rent paid by the district or districts maintaining the high school."

The provision of the present law for the addition of ten per centum of the cost of the specified items was intended to cover all overhead costs such as this. If it is inadequate, it should be increased. But rent is an unusual expense. It would be illogical to provide for it and omit numerous other extraordinary expenses to which districts may at times be put. Moreover, I am informed that in some instances school buildings have been built with private capital and are used by the school district at a rental which includes installment payments on account of purchase of the building. It would be highly unfair to use such rentals as a basis for tuition charges.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1035

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 24, 1933.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the House of Representatives and Senate recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 1035, Printer's No. 174, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 1219

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 20, 1933.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1219, Printer's No. 223, entitled "An act to amend section eight and sixteen of an act approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws four hundred sixty-eight) entitled 'An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner two Deputy State Highway Commissioners chief engineer chief draughtsman superintendents of highways and a staff of assistants and employes defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats principal cities and towns and extending to the State line describing and defining the same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth providing for the improvement maintenance and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or of authority over same requiring boroughs and incorporated maintain the same and relieving said townships or counties towns to maintain certain State Highways wholly and in part requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner providing for the payment of damages in taking of property or otherwise, in the improvement thereof providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State Highway and procedure therein providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads defining highways and State-aid highways providing method of application for State aid in the improvement maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of township county borough or incorporated town petitions providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State county township borough or incorporated town and requiring contracts by counties townships boroughs and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid highways and kind of materials to be used in the improvement providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs providing penalty for injuring or destroying State Highways making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act' as amended by providing for the payment of all damages due to the change of width grades lines and locations of State highways in boroughs towns and townships including the revomal of structures by the Commonwealth."

This bill amends Section 16 of the Sproul Act of May 31, 1911, P. L. 468. It would place upon the Commonwealth all of the damages for the taking of land for State highways and in that respect is similar to Senate Bill No. 19, Printer's No. 6, which I vetoed on February 17, 1933.

I have approved Senate Bill No. 435, which places upon the Commonwealth the damages for the taking of land for the relocation or widening of State highways when the county commissioners have not agreed to the change. This bills is inconsistent with that act.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. WILLIAM A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 23, 1933.

Whereas, This House by resolution Number twenty-four Serial Number thirty-nine, Printer's Number fifty-seven appointed a Committee to draft a bill to regulate liquor control and on Monday last amended the resolution substantially creating the Committee to draft consider amend and hold public hearings on all liquor control bills and for the said Committee to better and more efficiently function all liquor control bills ought to be referred to it for consideration and action as is done and practiced by the other Committees of the House Now therefore be it

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. BLUMBERG, Mr. Speaker, I move that the resolution be laid on the table for the present.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RE-REFERRED

Mr. SOWERS returned from the Select Committee on Liquor Control with the recommendation that it be re-referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, House Bill No. 1854, entitled:

An Act to regulate and restrain the traffic in malt, brewed and vinous beverages as herein defined; creating a commission for each of several districts, defining their powers and duties; providing for the licensing of the manufacture, sale, transportation and distribution of such beverages; imposing taxes and license fees; and providing for collection and distribution of revenues therefrom; restricting ownership and interest in licensed places; making appropriations for carrying the same into effect; providing penalties and repealing existing acts.

AMENDMENT TO ORDER OF THE DAY

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following motion.

The motion was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved by Mr. Hoopes that on Wednesday, April 26, 1933, at 12.00 o'clock noon it shall became a special order of business of the House to consider a motion that the Committee on Elections be discharged from further consideration of House Bill 900, "An Act imposing an annual state tax upon each resident of the Commonwealth over the age of twenty-one years for the purpose of quaifying such persons to vote at elections," which bill was referred to the Committee on Elections on February 14, 1933, and has been in the hands of said Committee for a period of more than ten days.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to render an opinion relative to the motion offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes.

The gentleman has sent to the desk a motion that it shall become a special order of business for Wednesday, April 26, 1933, at 12.00 o'clock noon, to consider a motion to discharge the Committee on Elections for further consideration of House Bill No. 900.

The Chair is of the opinion, and so rulees, that in order of the day, No. 4A "House and Concurrent Resolutions originating in the House other than those to discharge committees from consideration of bills," there is no provision which would permit a resolution or a motion to be considered to fix a special order of business for either today or tomorrow.

The motion is, therefore, ruled out of order under the order of the day.
